

The Professors Emeriti Club Provides Resources and Connections For Charting A Happy Retirement

Retirement is a life transition that presents opportunities and challenges. Most faculty members' personal and work identities are deeply intertwined. Retirement means more time for embracing new challenges and opportunities, making new friends and deepening current relationships, and finding a new life purpose and meaning. The Professors Emeriti Club provides chances for faculty to engage in intellectual, social, service, and recreational activities. Come connect with old colleagues, meet new ones, and stay connected with the U.
