One of the smartest things you can do in retirement is to enroll in the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute. Osher classes will stimulate your intellect, improve your cognitive abilities, rejuvenate your memory, ignite your spirit and, oh yeah, you’ll have loads of fun interacting with like-minded learners who love to engage in stimulating discussions.

Give your brain the workout it needs and enroll in Osher today.

Membership
Membership is just $30 per year, is valid for one year, and includes:

• Access to a wide variety of unique classes in Art, Contemporary Studies, Health, History, Languages, Literature, Science, Medicine, & Technology, and more. Tuition and special fees apply.
• A wide range of no- or low-cost special events and lectures.
• A community of engaged and engaging peer members.
• Discounts on- and off-campus.
• Access to U of U resources like libraries and computer labs.

U of U Retired Employee Discount
The Osher Institute is a wonderful way to maintain a connection with the U and as a retired or emeritus employee you are likely eligible for tuition reduction benefit. Tuition benefits are administered by HR. Contact benefits at 801-581-7447 to determine your benefit, for an application form, or for more information. Application for reduced tuition must be submitted each semester.